Market St . Johnstown NY
Starting at 6:30 pm
Next Meeting
November 8th 2018

Meeting is at the Church

The President's Corner – November 8th , 2018

Hello, fellow members:

There is a chill in the air and the goblins are at hand. Unfortunately, we have had a lot of rain too. That being said, the field has been too soggy to get the toilets squared away and pumped out. As soon as we get some dry days, we will get the final winter preparations done.

Please attend the next club meeting on November 8th to discuss the budget and calendar for next year. There are some issues that need to be resolved in order to balance our budget. Your input is necessary to ensure that all opinions and ideas are included. This is YOUR club. Please participate.

Keep on flying!

Bill Dexter

CHEER — To the Lazy Eight Radio Control Model Airplane Club for holding an event on Saturday that not only entertains young and old alike, but benefits children in the area who may not have the privilege of a new coat, boots and mittens for winter.

Now in its 32nd year, the annual charity airshow put on by the club is a delight to watch as these model airplane enthusiasts put their aerial devices through stunts and thrilling maneuvers.

Proceeds from the event go to the Warm the Children program. Promoted by The Leader-Herald, the program has been helping keep children warm since 1993 and the children actually get to pick out anything that warms a child.

With help from organizations like the club, as well as individual donations and sponsorships, The Leader-Herald is able to help keep even more children warm. Thank you!

Thank You Lazy 8 Radio-Controlled Model Airplane Club !
